DOCUMENTS:
=====

[4-15-2017] Copies of current documents are in dark blue zippered case in master bedroom closet, same location as insurance policies but different shelf. Also all condo doc. in separate binder. Current Ed. Jones statements in desk in living room—bottom draw on right side of desk. All signed, original copies of will, trust and other pertinent papers in bank vault. VB has copies of annuities—mine are among papers in closet in bedroom that I no longer have the ability to review.

Trust documents are in BBT safe deposit box.

Durable Family Power of Attorney document, signed/notarized 10/30/87

Letter on Condo from Eric Sauerberg dated 10/30/2003

NOTE: On affidavits and documents, my birthdate is entered as 9/15/25 because this is how it is recorded on my original birth certificate, even though my real birthday is the 16th.

=====
PASSWORDS:

Usernames and passwords are in the small pink passport case that is in the metal strong box in my bedroom clothes closet. (Update 4-1-2012: Passwords in envelope in night table drawer next to bed in master bedroom. Table behind computer desk.)

E. Jones can be logged in directly from the desk top---go to online banking, username will appear automatically, then just enter password, click accounts and you can see balances for each account and total net worth.

Do the same for BBT Bank (bbt.com) but first click online banking, enter username and password, click view/ pay bills follow instructions to pay utilities, credit card bills, PB Post and whatever I may add along the way.

All of this is redundant because you have power of attorney and are sole personal rep of my estate, so all you'll need to access anything are copies of those documents and a death certificate. Checking account at BBT will require neither because you have automatic access to account and vault.

=====

TAX AND OTHER PAYMENTS:

=====

Property Tax:

On my desk in the living room, there is a ML day planner that I get each year from Jim. On the inside front cover, there is a pocket where I keep the current year's due bills and addressed envelopes for the Lake Point Tower management company and POA (property owners assoc.) that are payable quarterly on the first of the stated month---I always pay on the 10th of the month. Be sure to pay ONLY the amount due and NOT the late charge which is the 30th of indicated month. Many people make that mistake so look carefully. A separate check is required for each quarterly statement, they cannot be combined. Place in self addressed envelopes and deliver to LPT manager's office, or front desk; they deliver them to the appropriate management company office, so mailing is not required by you. If I use a service from the building, I am notified by management and that charge can be added to the LPT payment.

When paying LPT and POA dues, not necessary to mail, just take the envelopes provided, enclose check and payment slip and take to LPT office. Give to secretary (Pamela) or whoever is in the office, Bob or Andy.

Medicare Part D prescription plan is automatically deducted monthly from my BBT checking account, as is my BC/BS supplemental. My SS is automatically credited.

4-5-2010: Lisa H. said to make sure that $300k left in unified tax credit be deducted from gross taxes on estate.
